

ORIGINAL TEXT

"Every year, millions of Americans take to the streets to ride their bikes. They ride them to and from work or school or on the weekend as a hobby. Although bike riding can be an enjoyable way to exercise, it's important to remember that bike riding can also be dangerous. More than a million Americans injure themselves seriously each year while riding a bicycle. The good news is that many bicycle injuries can be avoided through bike safety. Bike safety includes careful riding, common sense, regular maintenance, and proper equipment " (Grammar and Composition Handbook 375).
