

Test 1 review.notebook

RO = run-on

SF = sentence fragment

CS = comma splice

C = correct as is

1. There are words in our language that are confusing, we need to remember that some words can function as different parts of speech.
2. This confuses many people they want to know why one word isn't enough.
3. Words that mean the same thing.
4. The opposite of synonyms are antonyms, which are words that mean the opposite.

Sep 25-4:26 PM

RO = run-on

SF = sentence fragment

CS = comma splice

C = correct as is

5. Another synonym of these words is proud, this word has a different connotation than the other two.
6. Be called proud instead of conceited any day!
7. Just do the right thing!

Sep 25-4:30 PM

Answers:

1 CS

6 Correct as is

2 RO

7 Correct as is

3 SF

4 Correct as is

5 CS