

Fill in the circle next to the choice that correctly describes each sentence.

1. Listen to these facts about undersea exploration.
 (a) declarative (b) interrogative (c) imperative (d) exclamatory
2. Ancient Greek skin divers held their breath underwater.
 (a) declarative (b) interrogative (c) imperative (d) exclamatory
3. Did you know that expert skin divers can hold their breath for more than five minutes?
 (a) declarative (b) interrogative (c) imperative (d) exclamatory
4. Wow, that's a long time!
 (a) declarative (b) interrogative (c) imperative (d) exclamatory
5. People used diving bells from ancient times until the early 1900s.
 (a) simple sentence (b) compound sentence (c) complex sentence
6. These hulls were bell-shaped, ^S and ^V their undersides were open.
 (a) simple sentence (b) compound sentence (c) complex sentence
7. ^S Because the air inside the bell pressed down, water did not enter the bell.
 (a) simple sentence (b) compound sentence (c) complex sentence
8. Diving bells were useful, ^S ^{LV} but ^S divers could not descend very deep in them. ^{HW} ^{AV}
 (a) simple sentence (b) compound sentence (c) complex sentence
9. ^S When the bathysphere was developed in 1930, deep-sea exploration became possible.
 (a) simple sentence (b) compound sentence (c) complex sentence
10. This vehicle consisted of a hollow ball on a cable.
 (a) simple sentence (b) compound sentence (c) complex sentence
11. ^S Although the bathysphere was a breakthrough, scientists would later develop much more efficient exploration devices.
 (a) simple sentence (b) compound sentence (c) complex sentence
12. Some oceanographers live underwater for short periods of time, research stations have been built on the sea floor.
 (a) fragment (b) run-on (c) comma splice (d) ramble-on
13. Leaving the station each day for exploration.
 (a) fragment (b) run-on (c) comma splice (d) ramble-on
14. One man spent almost 70 days in a submerged chamber in Florida he was studying the effects on humans of life underwater.
 (a) fragment (b) run-on (c) comma splice (d) ramble-on
15. In my opinion, I think living underwater would be difficult because there would be nothing but water around, and you would be living in the middle of it all the time, with no fresh air to breathe.
 (a) fragment (b) run-on (c) comma splice (d) ramble-on